CHAPTER I—INTRODUCTION

(E. M. S.)

This is not a history of the Shackelfords in general, though a brief general statement is essential as a starting point for our story. These general statements show our relationship to other lines of Shackelfords, and so might be of interest to them; but our chief purpose here is to record the most important facts about our immediate ancestors, George Shackelford and Annette Jeter, and the family which they founded at Pintlala, in Montgomery County, Alabama, in the early part of the 19th century.

Incomplete records, defective memories, and shadowy traditions make the writing of history a difficult task. Hence, notwithstanding our efforts to obtain reliable information about our family, many important questions remain unanswered.

Necessarily this little account is limited to sketches of George Shackelford and Annette Jeter and their children, with genealogical data covering subsequent generations. To do more would be beyond our ability at this time.

To obtain the data used in the preparation of these sketches our historian, the Rev. Franklin S. Moseley, traveled thousands of miles examining old records, holding personal interviews, visiting old cemeteries, etc.; he and I have obtained reports from research bureaus; we have examined results of investigations by Judge W. Rodes Shackelford, Richmond, Ky.; Joel Walker Shackelford, Denver, Col.; Mrs. Jane Shackelford McCrady, Charleston, S. C.; Lieut.-Col. Robt. B. Shackelford, Dr. Jesse M. Shackelford, and Mr. Minor Gibson, all of Virginia; and we have added to all of that what we know and what we could gather through conversations and correspondence. We gratefully acknowledge our obligations to all who have, in any way, contributed to our efforts.

CHAPTER II—THE NAME "SHACKELFORD" (E. M. S.)

It is just as natural to wish to know where one came from as it is to know where he is going, and there is just about as much uncertainty about the one as the other. There are many links missing from the chain of history, and the future is blurred by many doubts and misgivings. History can not keep a complete record of multiplying millions for any considerable period of time, even if that record were not interrupted by wars and the resulting formation of new races. But such interruptions have occurred many times and many new races have been made. Naturally the making of new races means the making of new languages, and in this way records have become confused and personal identities have frequently been lost. There is perhaps no better illustration of such changes in all history than that found in the history of the English people and their language. The Celts (the original Britons) were conquered by the Romans; the Romans were followed by the Anglo-Saxons; and they by the Normans—all in quick succession. Each of these conquering races introduced its own language, which in turn, was either grafted on to the language already in use or was combined with it to form a new one. Sir Walter Scott describes the merging of the Anglo-Saxon and the Norman French in the following words:

"The necessary intercourse between the lords of the soil, and those oppressed inferior beings by whom that soil was cultivated, occasioned the gradual formation of a dialect, compounded betwixt the French and the Anglo-Saxon, in which they could render themselves mutually intelligible to each other; and from necessity arose by degrees the structure of our present English language."

by side, one could see at a glance the changes through which our language has passed; and it would also help him to realize the difficulty of keeping track of family names through such changes back to their origin. I wish we had space for such illustration, but we haven't. However, I feel that the explanations given are essential to an appreciation of what I shall say about the origin and meaning of our family name—Shackelford—for names go through the same evolutionary processes that languages do.

After reading the result of several investigations of the origin and meaning of our name, I am forced to agree with Mr. W. Rodes Shackelford, of Richmond, Kentucky, that many of the statements made on the subject "seem to be based largely, if not wholly, on speculation." But since it is practically impossible to obtain unbroken documentary proof of all changes through which much of our language and many of our names have passed, it seems to me that we must indulge in some speculation, and our problem is to select the theory which involves the least uncertainty. Mr. Shackelford and some other investigators contend that our name originated from the place where its bearers lived. We know that was often the case; but we also know that more families gave their names to the places where they lived than derived their names from such places. Mr. Shackelford states that there are two villages in England called Shackelford (one of which he visited), but he fails to account for their being so named. Two other writers do try to explain it, but to me their reasoning is unsatisfying. The assertion by one writer that our name came from two words "Shackells" and "ford" may be sufficient to warrant him in saying that our ancestors were of humble origin; but that does not seem to harmonize with another statement of his "that the founder of the Virginia line (from whom we are descended) is generally believed to have been *John Shackelford, a 'knight cavalier' in the time of Charles I of England, . . . who fled to America after

*The best authorities give "Roger" instead of "John".

Charles was beheaded . . . and settled in Virginia." Nor does it agree with the well-known facts that Henry de Shackelford was a gentleman in waiting to Henry V (1387-1422), and that William de Shackelford . . . was an officer in the household of Henry VII (1457-1509). Again, if the family was strong enough to give its name to two places in England and one in Virginia and to contribute to the various walks of life such a large number of distinguished representatives, it seems to be more than probable that good blood flows in its veins. In view of these and many other facts, I am strongly inclined to the contention of Mr. Minor Gibson, of Virginia, and other writers, that we are descended from Baron Jacques le Forte, a nobleman of Normandy and an officer in the army of William the Conqueror when he overran England in 1066. It is claimed that William granted him lands in return for his services and that this land became "the ancestral seat of the family in England at 'Godalming', Surrey County, with the village of Shackelford". Mr. Gibson also says the name "Jacques le Forte" went through a series of changes before it reached its present form. We know that the Conqueror parcelled out a large portion of the land of England among his followers and that he had his grants recorded in the Domes Day Book. We also know that a great many of the Norman names changed their form as the language changed its form. Hence, it is no strain upon my credulity to accept Mr. Gibson's conclusions regarding the name of our family.

This disposed of, the only point remaining is its meaning. "Jacques le Forte" is French, and it is pronounced Zhacks-le-fort (not very far from Shackelford). It means "James the strong", or brave. This would seem to indicate that Shack~~le~~ford is a more nearly correct spelling of the name than Shackel/ford; but some French scholars think that the syllables "el" and "le" are sometimes interchangeable, just as the letters "t" and "d" in "fort" and "ford".

As stated in the opening paragraph, one naturally would like to know where he came from, how his name originated, what it means, and what kind of role his ancestors have played in history. But whether we came from plebeian or from patrician stock, whether our name came from a place or vice versa, whether our ancestors played an humble or a spectacular part in history—the main thing for us to consider is whether we are doing our own part well. Burns was right when he said,

“For a’ that and a’ that,
Their dignities and a’ that,
The pith o’ sense and pride o’ worth,
Are higher ranks than a’ that.”

CHAPTER III—PRE-AMERICAN SHACKELFORDS (F. S. M.)

NORMANDY TO ENGLAND

'The legendary history of this family begins with Baron Jacques le Forte, a nobleman of Normandy, an officer in the Army of William the Conqueror, Duke of Normandy, in his invasion of England in 1066 A.D. William granted him lands for his services and he settled in England where his descendants intermarried with the Britons and Saxons.' (Minor Gibson's Article 1907.)

'In 1329 John de Shackelford, was one of three trustees appointed by Richard atte Welle to hold his Manors at Eastbury in Compton and Unstead in Shalford, both in Surrey, for the benefit of his wife and children and his brother. No later occurrence of Shackelford as a surname has, however, so far come to light in Surrey or anywhere else in England, except in three small districts of the adjoining County of Hampshire. (Colonel R. B. Shackelford's Book.)

'The name changed frequently until Henry IV (1357-1413) when Henry de Shackelford was Gentleman in waiting to Henry V (1387-1422).' (M. G.)

'Shackelford Village, Godalming Parish, Surrey County, England, at one time had been an appendage to the estate of William de Shackelford, but had passed from the family in the later 1400's, says Judge W. Rodes Shackelford's history. Minor Gibson says 'About 1500 William de Shackelford, was officer of the household of Henry VII (1457-1509) and that the ancestral seat of the family was Shackelford village, which passed from the family in 1620. The residence was burned in 1700, the land then being part of the estate of the Earl of Middleton.'

SURRY COUNTY, ENGLAND.
SHACKLEFORD VILLAGE

FRANCE AND THE NETHERLANDS

'William de Shackelford, a grandson of the above Henry de Shackelford, espoused the cause of the Huguenots and in 1550, fled to France, where he joined the Army of Navarre (1553-1610). He married a Miss St. Pierre and from continued persecution, left France and settled in the Netherlands where both he and his wife died.' (M. G.) Godalming Parish Registers from 1582 to 1688 do not contain the name of Shackelford, says Col. Shackelford's book. This leads to the conclusion that the Shackelfords lived elsewhere in England or possibly in France.

ENGLAND AGAIN

'William de Shackelford's son (probably John) the father of the Virginia immigrant, returned to England where he joined the Army of Charles I (1600-49) and followed Charles' fortunes until Charles was arrested and beheaded.' (M. G.)

'One John Shackelford, butcher, whose will was filed in 1647 at New Alresford Parish, Hampshire, England, mentions a cousin John Shackelford, deceased and his children: Roger, Charles, Christopher, Ingram and Sarah. This latter John Shackelford who was deceased before 1647, had several children whose names are given in the old Alresford Parish Record, namely:

1. John Shackelford, baptized Dec. 23, 1627, died probably before 1647, as he is not mentioned then.
2. Roger Shackelford, baptized April 23, 1629. This is undoubtedly the Virginia immigrant. (See page 19). He is mentioned in the 1647 will.
3. Charles Shackelford, baptized Jan. 25, 1630, mentioned 1647.
4. Christopher Shackelford, baptized March 10, 1632, mentioned 1647. Remained in Alresford and had:
 John Shackelford, born April 25, 1657.
 Sarah Shackelford, baptized Nov. 5, 1659.
5. Anne Shackelford, baptized March 16, 1634, died probably before 1647, as not mentioned then.
6. Ingram Shackelford, baptized Oct. 12, 1636, mentioned 1647, remained in Alresford and had:
 James Shackelford, baptized Oct. 7, 1659.
7. Sarah Shackelford, probably born after 1636, mentioned 1647.

(See Col. S's Book.)

CHAPTER IV—GENESIS OF THE AMERICAN SHACKELFORDS

(F. S. M.)

FIRST GENERATION

Mary Palmer, ROGER SHACKELFORD, Thomas Hall, Thomas Kibble, Guy Knight, Jane Annis and Richard Palmer were the persons transported to Virginia by Edward Palmer, who received 400 acres in Petomeck freshes, lying up a creek between lands of Captain Brent called Puscato-way Neck and land of Hendy Vincent, the date of entry being June 4, 1658, in Gloucester County, Virginia.

Roger Shackelford is considered the founder of the family in America and is supposed to have fled England to save his head. He is most likely the same Roger baptized April 23, 1629 at Old Alresford Parish, Hampshire, England, a neighboring county to Surrey, where an ancient hamlet named Shackelford is located in Godalming Parish.

This Roger Shackelford would have been about twenty in 1649, the date given by Minor Gibson as the date of the Shackelford's entry into the colonies. Jamestown was settled in 1607, just twenty-two years prior to Roger's birth. Roger Shackelford is supposed to have married Mary Palmer about 1660. He would have been about thirty in 1660. (See Colonel Robert B. Shackelford's history of the family, 1940).

Roger Shackelford's name appears in the quit rent roll for 1704. Col. R. B. S. thinks this was the first Roger and that he died after 1704. Joel Walker Shackelford (1851-1916) of Denver, the first to start a Shackelford history but who died before completing it, wrote Mrs. Jane Shackelford McCrady (1854- . . .) of Charleston that he had located the tombstone of Roger at West Point in the southeast corner of King William County, not far from Shackelford village, Gloucester County, Virginia. He stated that the tombstone gave Roger's birthdate and place in England, death date and incidents in his life. Mrs. Henry S. Canby of Denver, who has her father's papers, kindly helped me search thru them in 1936, but the tombstone record couldn't be located. Roger's will has not been found but the following list of his sons is probably correct:

SONS OF ROGER—SECOND GENERATION

1. James Shackelford, born about 1660, married Elizabeth Robins, July 14, 1687, Christ Church, Middlesex County, Virginia, died 1734. One of his descendants was Judge Sprigg Shackelford (1849-1932) of Gunnison, Col., who used to argue with Joel Walker Shackelford that the name should be spelled "le" instead of "el." (See Col. S.'s book for descendants.)
2. John Shackelford, born about 1670, married a Miss Livingston about 1699. See Col. S.'s book for descendants. One John Shackelford, born about 1670, died 1734, in Carteret County, N. C. His will mentions wife, Ann, sons John, James, and appears to have had the following daughters, Mary (m. Enoch Ward), Sarah (m. Joseph Moss), Hannah (m. Mr. Roberts), Ann and Elizabeth. This John was in N. C. by 1713 and owned Shackelford Banks. He was the right age to have been a son of Roger. One of these Johns must have been Roger's nephew or a relative.
3. Benjamin Shackelford (mentioned in M. G. article).
4. Zechariah Shackelford (Col. S.).
5. Charles Shackelford (Col. S.).
6. Roger Shackelford.
7. Francis Shackelford (See next section).
8. William Shackelford, who figures in Carteret Co., N. C. records from 1726 to '31, may have been son of Roger or possibly a grandson.

Francis Shackelford, born between 1660-'80, married Sarah Lewis, died about 1722, appeared in Carteret County, N. C., at about the same time as John Shackelford (died 1734) and they appear to have been brothers. Many land transactions took place between Francis and John and their heirs. John's land passed to his son James and to James' son James and later to a Roger Shackelford who appears to have been a son of James, Jr. This Roger is probably the Captain Roger Shackelford, born 1773 in N. C.—died 1814, buried at Prince Winyah Church, Georgetown, S. C.

The authentic record of our Shackelfords begins with Francis Shackelford and wife Sarah, who are mentioned in our Bible, (printed 1757) as the parents of John Shackelford, born April 9, 1712.

Francis Shackelford was granted 395 acres of land lying in the freshes of the Rappahannock about four miles from the river side, on the south side of the river, adjoining the land of William Hudson, said land due said Francis Shackelford for importing eight persons into the colony, namely: Garnet Smith, Stephen Johnson, William Lancaster, William Trigg, Hugh Layton, Peter Steward, Margaret Rudarks and Richard Owen.

Another grant dated Nov. 2, 1705, to Francis Shackelford and Daniel MacGirt was for 1316 acres lying in the forest between the Rappahannock and Mattaponi rivers, the same being due for importing twenty-seven persons into the colony. Francis owned lands in both Gloucester and Essex Counties and he must have played a large part in bringing in new settlers.

Essex County records show a deed between Francis Shackelford of South Farham Parish to John Shackelford of Petsworth Parish, for 150 acres, dated March, 1705. Another 1706 record empowers Zachary Lewis 'to appear for me at Essex County Courthouse to relinquish dower in same 150 acres, my husband Francis Shackelford sold to John Shackelford and you will oblige your loving sister.' Signed—Sarah Shackelford (X her mark).

Sarah Lewis seems to have been the wife of our Francis Shackelford by 1706, leading to the guess that Francis was born before 1680 and married before 1705. Francis and Sarah probably had other children besides John. Col. Shackelford's book mentions one Sarah Shackelford who had a son William, baptized Dec. 16, 1722, Abingdon Parish, Gloucester County, Virginia. This could have been the widow of Francis who went back to Virginia from N. C., where her posthumous child was born and baptized. Francis died, very likely, in 1722, in N. C.

Francis Shackelford owned lands in Bath County (created 1712-13) in North Carolina. He probably moved there 1706-07, when Bath (later Carteret) was first opened up. His name appears on several land deals from 1712 to 1726-27, when he is spoken of as deceased. No record of his will has been found. Following is a probable list of his sons. It is certain that John was his son.

SONS OF FRANCIS—THIRD GENERATION

1. Roger Shackelford (wife Cary Baker). Col. Shackelford thinks he belongs here. It is almost certain that this Roger was a grandson of the first Roger, but doubtful as to whether he is a son of Francis. (See page 25).
2. John Shackelford, born April 9, 1712, most likely in North Carolina, married Ann (probably Battle or Willoughby) Dec. 31, 1730, Carteret County, died April 23, 1778, Onslow County, N. C., where his will is filed. John was granted 640 acres on west side of Brown's Inlet in 1726, formerly surveyed for his father, Francis Shackelford. In 1726, Enoch Ward (also married Mary, daughter of John Shackelford who died 1734) deeded John Shackelford, the younger orphan and heir of Francis Shackelford, 72 acres on the west side of North River.

North Carolina Colonial Records show that John was a captain of militia and that his son William was company clerk. Also in the company were his sons-in-law Stephen Williams and Lott Williams. John was attached to Col. Thomas Lovich's Regiment when it was brought into action to keep off the Spanish who had invaded Beaufort and vicinity in 1747. He was on duty when the town was taken. Four of John's sons (William, Francis, Stephen and George) were North Carolina Revolutionary War soldiers.

John Shackelford's wife, Ann, was born Mch. 10, 1714, and died April 6, 1782.

CHILDREN OF JOHN AND ANN—FOURTH GENERATION

1. William Shackelford, born Dec. 19, 1732, mentioned in land deals as William Shackelford, Gentleman, of Onslow County, when he deeded lands on south side of Beaver Dam, Tuckahoe Creek, Craven County, granted to him 1754. He was clerk of his father's North West Militia Company and is mentioned in Revolutionary War accounts. He died in 1790, leaving a wife Elizabeth, who later married Gaius Rowe. In 1797, Richard Shackelford (probably a son of William) selected Gaius Rowe as his guardian.
2. Easter, born Dec. 30, 1734, died April 6, 1761, married Stephen Williams about 1754, and had:
Easter Williams, born Dec. 26, 1758.
John Williams, born about 1760 or 61.
3. Sarah, born May 2, 1737, died Feb. 5, 1756, married Lott Williams about 1753, and had:
Benjamin Williams, born Jan. 17, 1754.
Ann, born June 23, 1755, who married a Battle.
4. Francis Shackelford (1739-1823) married Rebecca Ballard. (See page 26).
5. Child born Dec. 27, 1742. (Name faded in Bible. Not mentioned in father's will.)

6. John Shackelford, born June 4, 1745, died Nov. . . . , 1781, age 36. No data.
7. Frances (Fanny) born June 6, 1747, died before father's will made.
8. Mary Ann, born May 13, 1749, mentioned in father's will as Ann Williams.
9. James Shackelford, born Oct. 12, 1752, died Feb. 5, 1762, age 9.
10. Stephen Shackelford, born Sept. 23, 1756, mentioned 1778-83 in Onslow County records, a soldier in the Revolution, was a planter on the Waccamaw 1788-1803, near Georgetown, S. C. Lived at Britton's Neck 1820. In 1825 he deeded two negro boys to Calvin Shackelford, probably his son. No record of his will.
11. George Shackelford, born Jan. 19, 1759, died 1802, in Onslow County, soldier of the Revolution, married Mary (Polly) Shine. (See: Colonists of Carolina by Blanche Humphrey Abee). Their children were:
 - John (Jacky) Shackelford.
 - Nancy, married a Mr. Ball.
 - Susannah, married W. D. Humphrey.Daniel Shackelford, son of George Shackelford and Mary Shine, was born about 1786, married first, Catherine Ernul, 1809, Craven County, N. C., second, Minerva Humphrey, 1824, died about 1833 in Henrica County, Va. He had, among others:
 - James Shackelford 1818-97, who married Laura McKendree Smith, and had John Frink Shackelford (1846-1921) of Tarboro, N. C., and William Thomas Shackelford, of Baltimore, Maryland.
 - John Williams Shackelford 1, 1820-65, who married, first, Indiana Ambrose Humphrey, 1843, and, second, Frances Ann Duval. He and first wife had John Williams, Jr., 1844-83, who died while representing N. C. in Congress, leaving no descendants. By second wife, he had James Duval Shackelford (m. 1st, Lillie Davis and 2nd, Susan Taylor Grimes Smith) who had Richard Smith Shackelford, Denver. Also by second wife, J. W. S., Sr., had Edgar Shackelford (m. Fanny Lee Scott) who had Nellie Scott Shackelford, Cambridge, Maryland.

Note—Dr. Jesse Martin Shackelford's ancestry is given in Colonel R. B. S.'s Book, Page 54.

Roger Shackelford, born about 1700, died 1779, King and Queen County, Virginia, married Carey Baker, was undoubtedly a son or grandson of the first Roger Shackelford. Colonel Shackelford thinks the second Roger was son of Francis Shackelford and Sarah Lewis, but this is not certain.

John Shackelford, son of Roger and Carey, born about 1736, Virginia, died 1800, Hancock County, Georgia, married Frances Wade Butler, 1775, Hanover County, Va.

James Shackelford, son of John and Frances, born 1779, Virginia, died 1839, Gainesville, Ala., married Mary or (Patsy) Broadnax.

John Wade Shackelford, son of James, born 1801, Hancock County, Georgia, died 1890, Jefferson, Texas, married, 1st, Lucretia Winn, had Dr. Leonidas Shackelford, who was father of Lee Shackelford, Meridian, Miss. J. W. S. married, second, Helen Phoebe Weaver and had Thomas William Shackelford, who was the father of Mary Lee Shackelford, Natchitoches, La.

Robert Shackelford (1806-77), son of James, married, 1st, Amelia A. Harper, and had Dr. Edward Shackelford of Prattville, who was father of Robert William Shackelford of Autaugaville, Ala. Robert married, second, 1846, Cordelia Anne Quigley, and had George Washington Shackelford, who was father of Julia A. Dillard of Atlanta and of Margaret E. McGuinn of Spartanburg, S. C.

Francis Shackelford, born March 18, 1739, Onslow County, N. C., died May 5, 1823, Marion District, S. C., married 1763 or 1764, Rebecca Ballard. Francis was a soldier of the Revolution from North Carolina. (Mrs. William Reid Lancaster of Montgomery is D. A. R. No. 268,229 thru his services) Francis lived at Buckswamp in 1820 and is probably buried there in an unmarked grave.

Rebecca Ballard, wife of Francis Shackelford, was born Aug. 19, 1738, died May 26, 1818, and is buried in the Buckswamp Bethea Cemetery, two miles North of Latta, S. C., on the J. H. Manning place. Also buried in this cemetery are Rebecca's daughter Mary and her husband William Bethea.

BALLARD FAMILY

Mrs. John L. Askew, West Point, Georgia (1940) has a Bible giving the family of John Ballard and wife, Mary . . . , and recording their children as follows:

1. Joseph Ballard, b. Apr. 17, 1735.
2. Jesse Ballard, b. Nov. 18, 1737 (probably the same man mentioned in John Shackelford's will, 1778).
3. Rebecca, born Aug. 19, 1738, died May 15, 1818, married Francis Shackelford.
4. Anne, b. April 10, 1740.
5. Benjamin Ballard, b. Feb. 27, 1743, died June 16, 1832, in Georgia.
6. Joshua Ballard, b. Dec. 25, 1745, died Jan. 19, 1832, in Georgia, married Suffish Moor, Nov. 27, 1787, and Susannah Barksdale, July 15, 1795.
7. Susannah, born March 23, 1750.
8. Mary, born Nov. 17, 1753.

CHILDREN OF FRANCIS SHACKELFORD AND REBECCA BALLARD
—FIFTH GENERATION

1. Willoughby Shackelford, b. Dec 30, 1765.
2. Francis Shackelford, b. Sept. 23, 1773, probably the same Francis who died July 21, 1805, Sullivans Island, S. C., age 31.
3. Sarah, born Sept. 11, 1775.
4. George Shackelford, born June 17, 1779, Onslow Co., N. C., died Jan. 31, 1852, Pintlala, Montgomery Co., Alabama; married May 23, 1824, Annette Jeter, at Pintlala. (See page 28).
5. Daniel Shackelford, born Sept. 9, 1781.
6. Mary, born June 17, 1784, died Apr. 13, 1874, married William Bethea. Her descendants are given in 'Kin-folks' by Col. Wm. Curry Harlee.
(Aunt Mary Bethea was the only one of the relatives George Shackelford's family didn't lose touch with. His daughter, Mary Allen, and her daughter Willie corresponded with Mary Bethea until she died in 1874).

Grandchildren (sixth generation) mentioned by Francis Shackelford's will:

Owen Shackelford, Rebecca Shackelford, Sarah Coxe and Pinney (Penelope) Straynge.

CHAPTER V—THE FAMILY OF GEORGE SHACK- ELFORD AND ANNETTE JETER (E. M. S.)

The foregoing records establish the fact that George Shackelford, the immediate ancestor of our branch of the Shackelfords, was of the fifth generation from the immigrant Roger, and that he was born in Onslow County, N. C., on June 17, 1779, the fourth child of Francis Shackelford and Rebecca Ballard. (See page 23.)

We have no account of his life prior to his entering Alabama in 1818, with two of his brothers. He had three brothers—Willoughby, Francis and Daniel—but we do not know which two came to Alabama with him. Grandpa merely said that the three entered Alabama near its northeastern corner and that they followed the Tennessee River until they reached Huntsville, where he left the others and came to Pintlala. Strange that these brothers never heard from one another after they separated, for they were evidently possessed of fair common school education, and mail facilities must have been good enough even then for ordinary correspondence. It is a natural presumption that these two brothers followed the course of the Tennessee further west and settled somewhere in the valley. We know that there are Shackelfords at several points further down the valley; and it is reasonable to suppose that some of them are descended from these brothers, but we have not been able so far to establish any definite connection.

Grandpa became a landowner immediately after coming to Pintlala in 1818; for records show that he donated a site for Old Bethel Church, which was organized in 1819, though the date of his first recorded deed is March 21, 1821. Eight hundred acres of his land were doubtless patented to him directly by the U. S. Government; but much of it was acquired by purchase, some of it from an Indian Chief, ac-according to statements made by my father. He did not name the chief, but he must have been Sam Manac, who lived just across Pinchona Creek and owned a large body of land around his home, some of which joined Grandpa's on the west side. Grandpa owned at the time of his death, a total of 1773 acres, which he divided among his sons, after setting aside 160 acres as a homestead for Grandma. Each daughter was given a sum of money in lieu of land. Four sons became heads of families; and all of them except Uncle Joe settled on the lands given them.

Besides land Grandpa mentioned 61 slaves in his will and directed how they were to be distributed among his heirs. This will is deemed of sufficient historic value to justify its insertion. It is as follows:

"LAST WILL OF GEORGE SHACKELFORD

The State of Alabama

I George Shackelford of the county and state aforesaid do make and declare this my last will and testament.

In the first place I give and bequeath unto my wife Annette Shackelford the following real and personal estate for and during the term of her natural life and at her death to descend and be distributed as hereinafter directed viz:—the South East quarter of Section 16 T14 R17 and the following negroes viz:—Ann, Charity, Luce, Easter, Wade, Sandy, Anderson, Ellen, Isaac and Dinah.

In the next place it is my will and desire that the negroes bequeathed above to my wife and to those of my sons who may not be of age at the time of my death and to those of my daughters who may be unmarried at the time of my death shall remain on the plantation now occupied by me and worked in common and that the proceeds of the labor of said slaves shall be appropriated as equitably as my executors may be able to do so to the support of my wife and to the support and maintainance and education of my children—my desire being that my wife and children who may be under age shall continue to live as one family and enjoy in common the profits of said property and with the view to carry out my wishes, I hereby invest my executors with full discretion and exempt and discharge them from accounts annually in the Probate Court or to any of said children when he or she shall become of age for any deficiency in his or her receipt of his or her proportion of the annual proceeds of said labor.

I also will and desire that all my horses, mules, cows, hogs, sheep, plantation tools, carriages, waggons, carts and provisions of every kind shall be kept on the plantation for the use of my wife and children who may be under age and my daughters unmarried at the time of my death.

It is also my will and desire that as my sons who are now infants shall come of age and as my daughters who are now single shall marry that my executors shall deliver to them the negroes specifically bequeathed to them and also to such son or daughter one horse, saddle and bridle, one bed and furniture and two cows and calves and as I shall hereafter give to my sons the land I now own in another instrument in lieu of land I direct my executors to pay to each of my daughters as they may marry the said sum of four hundred dollars in cash hereinbefore bequeathed to them. I also will and direct that upon the death of my wife the negroes given to her shall be equally divided between my eight children now in being equally share and share alike and that my grandson John M. Rives is to receive no other or further portion of my estate under any division or distribution that may hereafter be made as I have already given him as much as I possibly can give to my other grand children.

I also will and direct that when all my children shall come of age in the event their mother shall have died that the land bequeathed to her and the stock and provisions which may remain shall be divided equally amongst my eight children as above directed. I also direct that so long as she may live she shall have the use and benefit of said tract of land bequeathed to her and my house and furniture, stock of horses, mules, cattle, hogs, tools and provisions or so much thereof as she may need.

It is also my will that the property given to my daughters shall be held for the sole and separate use of each to the exclusion of the rights of debts of their husbands and if any of them shall die without children their property shall be divided amongst my eight children and in being to the exclusion of the said John M. Rives.

I also give my executors full discretion in the management of my estate with power to purchase property with the proceeds of the labor of my children's slaves to be held for the common use and benefit of said children.

Finally I hereby nominate my son-in-law N. G. Williams and my son Francis Shackelford executors of this my last will and testament and it is my particular desire and wish that they after giving bond and returning inventories make no other settlement in the Orphan's Court and I wish them with all the power that may be necessary superceed the necessity of appointing guardians for my infant children. In as much as I have the fullest confidence in them, I have given them great discretion with the confidant belief that they will manage the property of my wife and children with the utmost fairness and with satisfaction to all.

Witness my hand and seal this the twenty third day of April, 1851.

George Shackelford

Probated February 26, 1852.

A careful reading of this will reveals that Grandpa made ample provision for Grandma's comfort after his death, that he put all of his children upon an equal footing in the division of his personal property, that he gave wise directions for handling this property prior to its distribution, that he was interested in the education of his family, and that he had the fullest confidence in Uncle Nat. Williams and Uncle Frank Shackelford, whom he appointed executors of his estate.

Another interesting fact is that while he gave each child six slaves, he gave each daughter $400 in cash (except Aunt Penelope, who received $600), and the will says, "I shall hereafter give to my sons the land I now own in another instrument." I have never seen that "instrument," but transfer records show that the sons received amounts varying from 305 to 640 acres each.

Grandpa was married to Annette Jeter, daughter of Eleazer and Anne Moseley Jeter, on May 23, 1824, at her home in Pintlala, this home being on what is now generally known as the Bussey place, located about half a mile east of Moseley's store.

The Jeters (see "Our Kin" by Ackerly & Parker) like the Shackelfords, had come to Alabama from Virginia, after stopping for a while on the way, the Jeters in South Carolina and Georgia and the Shackelfords in North Carolina and South Carolina.

They made their first home in a log house located on the old federal road about a quarter of a mile west of their later home on the Montgomery-Mobile highway, and lived there until about 1847, when they moved into a large two-story frame building, which was located on the east side of the present highway, and about three quarters of a mile south of Pintlala Creek. This building remained just as it was built until about 1918, when Dr. Frank Shackelford tore it away and replaced it with the more modern structure now owned by Mr. Curtis Chestnut. A picture of this second building is herewith shown.

GEORGE AND ANNETTE (JETER) SHACKELFORD HOME

A SHORT TIME BEFORE THE HOUSE WAS DEMOLISHED ABOUT 1918.
SKETCH MADE SEPT. 15, 1932 BY FRANKLIN SHACKELFORD MOSELEY

Here both Grandpa and Grandma remained until they died—Grandpa on Jan. 31, 1852, and Grandma on Sept. 6, 1870. Both are buried in the family cemetery on a lot set apart by Grandpa for that purpose.

On Oct. 23, 1856, Grandma married Dr. Alexander Robert Hutchinson, who died on June 26, 1860, and he is also buried in the family cemetery. I know very little about Dr. Hutchinson or of Grandma's life with him, but I heard my father speak of him in the most respectful terms.

Grandma, as I remember her, was so drawn by rheumatism in her old age that she could not stand erect nor could she straighten her fingers. My mother said once that I complained to her of Grandma's slapping me and scratching my face. The only time that I distinctly recall seeing her she was sitting in a rocking chair by the fire smoking a clay pipe with a cane stem. It is a pleasure to give her picture the place of honor as the frontispiece to this little volume; and it is a matter of the deepest regret that no picture of Grandpa could be found to be placed beside hers.

To Grandpa and Grandma Shackelford were born ten children: Rebecca, George Washington, Penelope, Francis, Mary, James, Joseph, Madison, Anna, and Martha. All of these except James, who died in infancy, grew to maturity and reared families, and all except Penelope, Joseph and Anna made homes of their own in Pintlala. For more detailed information about the families of these children, see the sketches which follow this one.

Grandpa was probably the largest landholder and owned more slaves than any other citizen in the Pintlala community; and that naturally gave him a position of influence among his neighbors. On this point Mr. W. G. Robertson, a friend living in the Robertson's Cross Roads community, and a frequent visitor to Pintlala during Grandpa's life, said of him in his "Recollections of the Early Settlers of Montgomery County" "George Shackelford was among the best and most useful men of his day. He settled on the west side of Pintlala Creek. He had a very comfortable property, though not rich. He was a very enterprising man, a good farmer and citizen. He was a strong believer in the Baptist Church and a liberal supporter of the same.. By his energy and influence he built on his own land one of the first Baptist Churches in the county, and Old Bethel stands *today a memorial to the character and enterprise of George Shackelford. Mr.

*Note—This was written about 60 years ago, and since that time both the church building and the organization have passed into history.

Shackelford lived to a good old age, and when he died he left a legacy besides his property. He left a splendid family of sons and daughters to perpetuate his name and memory."

As stated in another chapter, it is a rather peculiar fact that although Grandpa and most of his children were supporters of Old Bethel Church and firm believers in its doctrines, not a single member of the family ever became a member of the Church.

CHAPTER VI—DESCENDANTS OF GEORGE SHACKELFORD AND ANNETTE JETER

Note 1—Repeating a statement made in the Introduction, these sketches cannot go into much detail beyond Grandpa's children, for the very obvious reason that to do so would make the cost of publication more than we can bear. However, information in outline about the rest of the generations may be found later in this chapter, even down to the date of publication.

Note 2—With reference to the pictures, the authors tried to find those of both husband and wife to place at the beginning of each family sketch, and effort was also made to obtain pictures corresponding as nearly as possible in age. Unfortunately, we found no picture of Uncle Nat. Williams, nor any of Aunt Penelope and Uncle "Kit" Rives. And the one of Aunt Mary Allen was taken when she was much older than Uncle Bill was when his was taken. But most unfortunate of all is the fact that we were unable to find any picture of Grandpa, which was needed as a companion for the one of Grandma in the frontispiece.

PART 1—CHILDREN—SIXTH GENERATION

REBECCA (SHACKELFORD) WILLIAMS

REBECCA WILLIAMS
(Table 7a)

"Aunt Beck," as she was called in her later life, was the oldest child of George Shackelford and Annette Jeter. She was born, as were all of their children, in their original log cabin home. Early in her fifteenth year she married her teacher, Nathaniel Greene Williams, a Virginian who had come to Alabama in 1834, and settled in Tallapoosa County.

As stated, Mr. Williams was a school teacher and had also been a justice of the peace. All of the children of this couple were born in Tallapoosa County and the oldest (Annette) married there before the family moved to the Pintlala community about 1861. I do not know to a certainty just where they lived in the Pintlala neighborhood, but I have a childhood impression that I visited the family once when they lived in a double-pen, hewn log house, which stood about 300 yards directly south of the present home of Mrs. Geo. H. Shackelford. Later "Aunt Beck" lived in a cottage built for her, and now occupied by Mr. C. H. Windham's family. Still later (and until Jodie married) she lived in the former Dick Taylor residence, which was on the site of the present Pintlala school building.

Mr. Williams died Oct. 6, 1867, and was buried in the family cemetery.

These were the children of this union: Annette, Tabitha, Nathaniel, Penelope Rives, Francis, Mary Elizabeth, Martha Ann, Shackelford, Virginia Walker, Jodie Lou. Of these, Annette (known generally among us as "Cousin Nettie"), Penelope (called "Cousin Pe"), Mary Elizabeth, Martha Ann ("Cousin Marsh"), Virginia Walker ("Cousin Jennie"), and Jodie Lou lived to maturity. Annette first married William Grimmette in 1860, and he was killed in the 2nd battle of Manassas in 1862. They had one child, who died quite young. In 1879 Annette married Hilliard T. Pearson, and they lived together until he died in 1904. Cousin Nettie followed him to the grave in 1907, and both are buried in the Shackelford cemetery. They left no children.

Penelope married William T. Robertson in 1871, and reared a family of three daughters and one son, all of whom are living. She and her husband are buried at Pintlala.

Mary Elizabeth, in 1869, married William R. Norman, moved to Waxahachie, Texas, immediately afterwards, reared a large family, and she died and was buried there in 1935. Mr. Norman survives her.

Jodie Lou married Bryant R. Reynolds of Tharin, Alabama, in 1889, reared a family of six children, and died in 1918. She is buried at Pintlala. Bryant was laid by her side in 1923. "Aunt Beck" lived with Jodie and Bryant from 1889 to the time of her death in 1896.

Cousin Marsh and Cousin Jennie grew to maturity, but both died in the bloom of young womanhood. The others died in early childhood.

Though ten children were born to this branch of Grandpa's family, only Mary, Penelope, and Jodie left families of their own—the one in Texas, and the other two in Alabama.

Unfortunately Uncle Nat (as he was known to us children) died before we were old enough to think much about such matters, and, hence, I cannot tell much about him; but he must have been an educated man, or he could not have been a teacher; and he must have been a good business man, or Grandpa would not have selected him as one of his executors and expressed the "fullest confidence" in him.

GEORGE WASHINGTON AND AMANDA (DELBRIDGE)
SHACKELFORD

GEORGE WASHINGTON SHACKELFORD (Table 7b)

Uncle Wash, Grandpa's second child and oldest son, was born Feb. 16, 1827. In his early years he followed the usual course of youths of his day—in school during school terms, doing the usual chores around home, playing, fishing, hunting, etc. In the course of time he married Amanda Caroline Delbridge of Aberfoil, Alabama, the date being Oct. 28, 1848. The young couple lived in the house now occupied by the widow of the late George H. Shackelford, and made a real farm home. Like most men of his age, Uncle Wash enlisted in the Confederate Army, his enlistment occurring March 8, 1862, and being in Co. F., 2nd Ala. Cavalry; but there seems to be no further record of his war service. He died Jan. 12, 1867, leaving Aunt Amanda with eight children, the oldest being 18 years of age.

Aunt Amanda was a woman of many virtues, not the least of which was her popularity with the family "in-laws." She was also a good mother, and she must have been a good manager to hold that large family of young children together on a farm, as she did, in the hard days of reconstruction. But it was a hard struggle, and in the early 70's she turned over the farm to Cousin George and moved, with her younger children, to Atlanta, Ga., the rest going to Birmingham, Alabama. The Delbridges, like most of the other families who formed marital relations with the Shackelfords, were of Virginia extraction, and they proved worthy of their ancestry.

The children of this union were George, James Delbridge, Francis, Florence May, Charles Ball, Minerva Lenora, Annette Palmetto, Virginia Bonham, Washington. All of these except Virginia Bonham lived to maturity, and all of the others except Francis and Charles Ball became heads of families. George married, 1st, Sallie C. McPherson, of Union Springs; 2nd, Mary Jane Gilchrist of Hope Hull, and 3rd, Lula Crawford Harrison, Columbus, Ga. He died in Birmingham in 1896, leaving three children by his 2nd wife. One by Lula Harrison died in infancy. James Delbridge became a merchant in Birmingham, married Mary Wilhelmina Enslen there, and died in 1918, leaving three children, all living. Francis became partially deaf and dumb from an illness in childhood, never married, and died in 1882, at the age of 28. Florence May married, 1st, Thomas O. Hart, of Opelika; 2nd, Jesse H. Lockhart, of Atlanta, Ga., where she died in 1932, leaving no children. Charles Ball became a hunch-back from the effects of disease; but he lived to the age of 51 years, dying in Atlanta in 1908. Minerva Lenora married William C. McLeod, had three children, and died at Atlanta in 1935. Annette Palmetto married George M. Downs, in Atlanta and died there in 1927, leaving a family of six. Washington married Genevieve Prickett, of Montgomery, had three children by her, was drowned at Miami, Florida, in 1904, leaving his young children to the care of their grandmother and their aunts. Genevieve had preceded him to the grave, while their children were quite young.

Truly this family had more than its share of mis-fortunes and sorrows.

PENELOPE RIVES (Table 7c)

I do not know much about Aunt Penelope, but the records show that she was born Nov. 18, 1828; that she married Christopher Rives, a neighborhood boy, in 1844, the marriage ceremony being performed by her Uncle Washington Jeter; that the couple moved to Texas soon afterwards, that they had two children, John M. and a daughter who died with her in childbirth on Sept. 14, 1847, just after she had been brought back to Pintlala by Uncle Frank. Their surviving son John was possessed of only limited ability, and was left to the care of his relatives. He divided the forty-five years of his life between the Rives and Shackelford families. He died in my father's home in 1890, and is buried in Pa's row in the family cemetery.

Since both Aunt Penelope and her husband died young—before any of the present generation were born—we know very little about them. In fact, there isn't much to be said, since they died pretty soon after they began life together. We don't know exactly when Mr. Rives died or where he is buried, though his grave is supposed to be on the original Rives (now Overton) place, just across Pintlala Creek, north of the Mat Shackelford place. Aunt Penelope, of course, is buried in the family cemetery at Pintlala.

FRANCIS AND JANE (WATTS) SHACKELFORD

Uncle Frank, as he was known by my generation, was the fourth child and second son of this family. Born Nov. 4, 1830, he lived to be just a little more than 75 years of age. He received the usual common school education, and he was interested in education throughout his life, serving as local school trustee for many years. He began life as a farmer, and in 1855 he married Parmelia Jane Watts, daughter of Tandy Key Watts and Martha Bunch, both of whom had migrated to Alabama from Georgia. This couple began life together in a double-pen, hewn-log house on "the plantation," about a mile and a half from the main Shackelford home. This was their home until 1873, and it was there that all of their children except Tandy were born. Uncle Frank bought and moved into the old family home on the highway in 1873, and lived there until his death in 1905. Aunt Jane continued her home there until her death in 1918. Uncle Frank was a good farmer with sound business judgment, and having received from Grandpa's estate a double portion, he soon became financially independent. And because of this independence and of Aunt Jane's excellent housekeeping, their home set a high standard for the community, and aided largely in giving Pintlala a splendid reputation abroad.

After the old family homestead became Uncle Frank's home, he and my father were within call of each other. They were constantly together—going almost daily to their farms together, often fishing and hunting together, and very few days passed without a visit to the one home or the other. They were brothers in fact as well as in name, and after my father died, Uncle Frank would go to the corner of his front porch, look down to Pa's old home, and burst into tears. It is thought that Pa's death hastened Uncle Frank's, which occurred five weeks later. Their passing carried to the "Great Beyond" a large part of the heart of the community and left a vacancy which time will scarcely be able to fill.

The children of Francis Shackelford and "Jennie" Watts were, in order, Mattie Key, William Lee, Emma Linton, John Walker, George Henry, an infant son, Jennie, Francis, and Tandy Watts. All of these except Mattie Key, George Henry, Francis, and Tandy Watts died either in infancy or in very early childhood. Mattie Key married A. B. Colquitt, a native of Bullock County, Ala., settled in the home community, and reared a family of seven. George Henry, first married Claudia M. Davis, a neighborhood girl, settled at the old Wash Shackelford place, became a farmer and reared three boys and one girl. After Claudia's death, he married Hermione Huckabee of Pineapple, who is still living, a widow, in the home where George died in 1935. Both George and Cousin Mattie are buried in the family cemetery. Francis married Fannie Garrett of Mt. Willing, became a practicing physician, and he and Fannie are both living in a new home, within a stone's throw of the old family home, in which they lived until the new one was built in 1937. By the way, he is the only lineal descendant of our generation now living in Pintlala. He and Fannie have no children of their own, though they reared several nephews and nieces. Tandy Watts married Lydia George, an Illinois girl, made his home for a while on Oklahoma City, and is now in the insurance business in Montgomery. They have two children, a son and a daughter.

WM. L. ALLEN AND MARY (SHACKELFORD) ALLEN

MARY ALLEN (Table 7e)

Mary, the fifth child and third daughter of the family, after the usual girlhood life common to families in circumstances similar to hers, married William Lafayette Allen Nov. 30, 1854. The chief facts about Uncle Bill Allen are that he was born in Macon County, Alabama (probably at Tuskegee) on Aug. 13, 1824; that he married Aunt Mary on Nov. 30, 1854, the day before she was expected to marry another man; that he was a commanding personality in every group of which he was a member; that he was interested in a livery stable in Selma; that he was Captain of Co. F, Second Regiment of Alabama Cavalry, C. S. A.; that he died in Atlanta, Ga., on June 13, 1864; and that he was buried in the Shackelford family cemetery at Pintlala.

In remarkable contrast to the loud and aggressive disposition of Uncle Bill, Aunt Mary was very quiet and retiring and was one of the most patient, even tempered women I ever knew. In truth, everybody who knew her loved her, and her influence for good extended far beyond the confines of her own home.

After Uncle Bill's death, Uncle Joe Shackelford became Aunt Mary's business advisor, and in order to be near him she moved to Ft. Deposit, Alabama, where he was then living. After a few years, Uncle Joe moved to Montgomery and she bought the old Bonham place and returned to Pintlala, where she spent the remainder of her life. She died on Feb. 11, 1907, and is buried beside her husband in the family cemetery.

Three children were born to this couple—Willie Joseph (known to us as "Cousin Willie"), Egbert Johnson, and James Madison. Cousin Willie married Charles E. Crenshaw, a prosperous young farmer of Lowndes County, and soon afterwards the young couple moved into the Bonham home of Aunt Mary and lived with her until her death. Mr. Crenshaw continued to farm, but he also operated successfully a store in the old Bonham storehouse at the cross roads. The Crenshaws reared a fine family of five boys and two girls, all of whom are still living except Edward, the oldest. Both Cousin Willie and Mr. Crenshaw are dead and are buried in Greenwood Cemetery in Montgomery.

Egbert Johnson Allen died in Tuskegee at the age of three years, and is buried at Pintlala.

James Madison Allen, after graduating at Auburn in 1885, taught school for a few years at Mt. Meigs, Ala., moved to Birmingham, went into the mercantile business, married Miss Dona May in 1888, and reared four children—three boys and one girl. The wife and children are all still living in Birmingham. James died in 1928 and is buried at Pintlala.

JAMES SHACKELFORD

This, the sixth child of George Shackelford and Annette Jeter, died Dec. 20, 1834, at the age of three months. Hence, there is nothing more that can be said about him.

JOSEPH SHACKELFORD AND MARY (TANNER-SALES)
SHACKELFORD

JOSEPH SHACKELFORD (Table 7f)

The seventh child and fourth son in this family was Joseph, born Sept. 27, 1835. Like the rest of his brothers and sisters, he got his early education in the community schools. He afterwards studied law under Judge Stone and was formally admitted to the bar on June 1, 1860, his license to practice being signed by Chief Justice Abram J. Walker and George D. Phelan, Clerk; but so far as we know he never actually practiced. The war came on within a few months after he was licensed and interrupted all civil processes; and naturally he did as nearly all young men of his time did. He enlisted in the army, and was commissioned by Governor Shorter as a First Lieutenant of Co. F., 2nd Regt. of Alabama Cavalry. His daughter, Mrs. Eva S. Brown, says that he also served as a Captain under Gen. Forrest; but she gave no further details.

For several years after the war Uncle Joe owned and operated a drug store in Ft. Deposit, Alabama, and it was during that period that he married Miss Mary Tanner-Sales, a well-known and popular young lady of the community, the marriage occurring on Oct. 1, 1872.

About 1880 the family moved to Montgomery, where Uncle Joe became a partner in the mercantile firm of Walker and Shackelford. After several years, he withdrew from this firm and became manager for Marks and Gayle's warehouse, in Montgomery. It was while traveling in the interest of this warehouse that his health failed, and he was compelled to retire from active business.

During most of the time he was working in Montgomery, Uncle Joe's family resided at Coosada; but when his health failed he moved to Pintlala, and died at my father's home Jan. 1, 1902. Aunt Mollie had preceded him to the grave in 1899.

Six children were born into this family—Ava, Mary, Joseph, Eva, Verna, and Josie. The first three were born at Ft. Deposit, and each died at about the age of two years. Eva was born in Montgomery, and Verna and Josie in Coosada. As stated, the first three of these children died young, and they and their parents are buried in the family cemetery at Pintlala. In 1905, Eva married James R. Brown, a young railroad clerk of Montgomery, and they reared one son, James R. Brown, Jr. She is now a widow, was in the government service, and now lives in Washington. Verna married Clyde M. Howard, an Autauga County boy and now Prof. of Mathematics in North Texas Agricultural College. They are living in Arlington, Texas. Josie married Mr. Thomas C. Acker, a world war veteran, and is in Washington, serving the government. Neither Verna nor Josie has any children.

MADISON SHACKELFORD AND SOPHRONIA (LEDBETTER)
SHACKELFORD

MADISON SHACKELFORD (Table 7g)

Madison, (my father) the fifth and youngest son of George Shackelford and Annette Jeter, was born in the family home at Pintlala on Feb. 8, 1838. He received such education as was provided by the common rural schools of that day. He said he ate more books than he digested. Nothing out of the ordinary marked his life during his youth and young manhood. In due course, he was married on Dec. 12, 1860, to Sophronia Jane Ledbetter, daughter of David Egbert Ledbetter and Pally Harrison Smith, both ex-Virgianians, then living in Lowndes County about four miles to the west of Pintlala. My mother had about the same educational opportunities as my father had; but she made better use of them and became a more accurate scholar. She is reported to have been a beautiful and attractive young woman. I know that she had a mild, equable disposition, which served as an excellent balance for the nervous and impulsive temperament of my father.

These two began life together in a modest little home located on a hill near the center of the plot of land set aside in Grandpa's will for my father. Their first residence consisted of one large hewn log room stripped on the inside with planks and daubed with clay between the logs on the outside. On the rear of this two small frame rooms were built, and in this building they resided until 1867, when they moved into a new frame building situated on the Montgomery-Mobile highway just across from, and in front of, Old Bethel Church. This residence is still standing, though it has been remodeled by its present owner, Mr. J. P. Henry.

Scarcely had they begun life in their little home on the hill before the War of Secession broke out, and Pa immediately enlisted to fight for the Confederacy. He entered the service as a 3rd Lieutenant of Co. F, 2nd Reg., Ala. Cavalry, and at the close of the war he was Purchasing Officer for the brigade quartermaster's department. He returned home to find his young family, his farm, and a remnant of equipment with which to start life anew. Both father and mother being energetic and economical, they soon had the farm producing well again despite the handicaps of Reconstruction; and, while they did not get rich, they lived comfortably, cared for their growing family, and practically doubled their holdings of real property before most of their children married and began homes of their own.

Bearing and sacrificing for eleven children undermined my mother's health and she went to an untimely grave on March 1, 1895, at the age of 51. On Oct. 31, 1897, Pa married Miss Roxana Gabriella Woodruff of Mt. Willing, Alabama, and they lived in his home until his death on Dec. 12, 1905. After a short while "Aunt Rock", as she was familiarly called, made her home with my sister Annie at Letohatchie, but died at Brewton, Jan. 18, 1921, and was buried in the Shackelford cemetery.

The children of Madison Shackelford and Sophronia Ledbetter were Emma, Edward Madison, Annie Lee, Joseph, an infant son, Samuel Harrison, Lillian, Lela, David Egbert, Annette and an infant daughter. As stated, two died in infancy. Emma, Joseph, Lillian, and Annette died in early childhood. The rest grew to maturity, and all of them except Samuel, who died in 1893, are still living. Edward became a teacher, married Rosa Lee Brantley of Troy, reared five children by her, after her death married Mrs. Julia Jer-nigan Darby and they are living in Troy. Annie Lee married E. L. Rogers of Letohatchie, reared five children, and is now a widow, living in the home where her children were born. Sam married Mary Emma Darby of Troy, but both died soon afterwards, leaving one daughter. Lela married Frank-lin M. Moseley, a neighborhood boy, moved to Montgomery, reared six children, and she is living in the home they built soon after settling there. Frank died June 2, 1940, just a few weeks before this was written. David practiced dentistry in Montgomery for a few years, then became a farmer in Oklahoma, and married Miss Edith Kneen there. She died soon afterward, leaving no children, and David returned to Alabama, and is now living with our sister Annie, at Leto-hatchie.

Besides their own children, my parents, at different times, cared for the following nephews and nieces who had been orphaned: John M. Rives, Angus Shackelford, Verna and Josie Shackelford; and after Grandpa Ledbetter's death in 1870, they provided a home for Grandma Ledbetter until she died in 1888.

WILLIAM WIRT WALKER AND ANNA (SHACKELFORD)
WALKER

ANNA WALKER

Anna, the ninth and next to the youngest of this family of children, was born on Jan. 31, 1842, and died in Montgomery Mar. 22, 1895. On Oct. 12, 1858, she married William Wirt Walker, a descendant of a prominent Virginia family. At the time of their marriage Mr. Walker (Uncle William, as he was known to us) was a conductor on one of the L. & N. passenger trains between Montgomery, Alabama, and New Orleans, Louisiana. Later he engaged in general merchandising at Ft. Deposit and in the late 70's he moved his business to Montgomery, where he "carried on" until his health failed, and he had to break up his own home and move into that of his eldest daughter at Bagdad, Florida. He died there Nov. 14, 1926, and was buried beside his wife in the Shackelford cemetery at Pintlala.

Uncle William was a quiet man with conservative views and urbane manners. He appreciated culture and gave his children the advantages of a college education, except his son Wirt, who preferred to enter business direct from a local high school. Aunt Anna had an attractive personality, with quiet dignity and executive ability that made her an admirable mother for her family. Dr. A. J. Lamar, for many years her pastor, in a sketch after her death, among other things, said of her, "I knew her, and I loved her. Her home life was delightful and beautiful, her influence felt by all, and felt only for good. The writer has met no one who more fully measured up to the inspired standard of what a wife and mother should be," and I think she was worthy of his tribute.

The children of this union were Marie Anna, John Henry, Samuel Jones, William Wirt, Virginia, and Lucy Shackelford. All of these except possibly Lucy Shackelford were born at Ft. Deposit, and all except John Henry and Samuel Jones reached maturity. These two boys died quite young, the one at ten months and the other at one year.

Anna married Henry Wright Thompson, a prominent lumber manufacturer of Bagdad, Florida, and reared four children; William Wirt married Sallie Morton Thompson, Henry's sister, and they reared three children; Virginia married Baker Curry Lawler of Gulfport, Miss., and they have no children; Lucy taught for a few years and then married Hamilton Harris Callen, a young business man of Selma. They have a son and a daughter. Cousin Anna and Wirt are dead. Virginia is living at Biloxi, Miss., and Lucy at Geneva, Ala., and both are widows.

MARTHA (SHACKELFORD) AND WALTER SCOTT STOKES

MARTHA STOKES

Martha was the tenth and youngest child of George Shackelford and Annette Jeter, and was born Jan. 3, 1845. After the gay and care-free girlhood so characteristic of the times for girls of her circumstances, she married Walter Scott Stokes, then living in the Sankey community, about four miles east of Pintlala. In a sketch in The Advertiser of April 25, 1921, I find the following statements about him: he was born in Danville, Va., Dec. 25, 1838; was educated at the Danville Military Institute; came to Alabama in his 21st year; served as Captain in Troop K, Second Alabama Cavalry, Ferguson's Brigade, later in Wheeler's Brigade, Hood's (afterwards Johnston's) army; served in escort of Jefferson Davis at the close of the war; and after the war he became a planter and also read law.

Uncle Walter was perhaps the most highly educated of all of Grandpa's sons-in-law, and was noted for his beautiful handwriting and neat personal appearance. For many years he was secretary of Pintlala Grange, where his beautiful writing appeared to advantage. He and Aunt Mattie were married on Jan. 24, 1867, and soon thereafter they built a neat frame house on their farm adjoining Uncle Frank's "plantation," which lay just to the north of theirs. But farming did not prove to be either profitable or congenial; so in 1888, the family moved to Montgomery, and Uncle Walter began work as a bookkeeper. In the course of time, he drifted into city politics, was elected a justice of the peace and soon became known as "Judge Stokes." He served in that capacity and as coroner until near the close of his life, which occurred April 18, 1921, Aunt Mattie having preceded him to the grave twenty years lacking one month. Both are buried in the same vault in the Shackelford cemetery at Pintlala.

The children of this couple were Maggie Price, Hugh Shackelford, Blanche, and Horace, all of whom grew to maturity. In 1889, Maggie married Joseph Henry Minnis, a young merchant in Montgomery, and they reared three children. Mr. Minnis died in 1922, and Maggie is still living in Montgomery. Hugh married Miss Susie Pollock of Selma, in 1897. Hugh was engaged in mercantile work in Selma at the time of his marriage, but after a few years, he removed to California, where he continues his chosen work. In 1912 Blanche married Bruce Woods Hicks, a young business man of Wheeling, West Virginia, but born in Virginia. They are at present located in Wheeling and they have no children. Horace was throughout his mature life connected with the livery and horse and mule business in Montgomery. He never married. His death occurred in 1939, and he is buried at Pintlala.

Aunt Mattie's lively wit and gay disposition coupled with Uncle Walter's education and culture created an excellent home atmosphere, and they left their children a legacy which money could not buy.

CHAPTER VII—THE SHACKELFORD FAMILY ASSOCIATION (E. M. S.)

Preliminary Steps. So far as I recall, the first discussion that I ever heard of our family history was in a conversation with Pa and Uncle Frank some time in the early 90's. They were both deeply interested, and regretted that they knew so little about the subject. They expressed the hope that I, or some one else in the family, would make such investigations as might be necessary to establish our origin and to give some idea of our contributions to history. Soon after this conversation Pa decided to begin the investigation himself, and for that purpose he secured a blank form from a research bureau located, I think, in Washington. He filled in that blank with such information as he and Uncle Frank could find; but that wasn't much—chiefly what they found in the old family Bible and what they could recall from discussions around the parental fireside. Neither Pa nor Uncle Frank was a writer; hence, no notes of these conversations were made, and their memories were none too retentive. Besides, our grandparents talked little and wrote less about what they and their forbears had accomplished. Hence, Pa and Uncle Frank had very little real historical information to turn over to me when, several years later, I found an opportunity to pursue the work which they had begun. Circumstances did not permit me to do much, and the investigation lagged until about 1925, when Henry Shackelford became interested and borrowed what material I had accumulated. About a year later, he reported that he had lost the records that I had loaned him, and, apparently, he lost interest in the matter. It was just about that time that my nephew, Frank Moseley, took up the work. In a letter to me dated Feb. 18, 1928, he said "I am in earnest about this business of getting the family records"; and on April 21st he wrote "I have written hundreds of letters already . . . and have the names of scores of professional genealogists," etc. But these genealogists wanted pay in advance for their work, and my records show that a check was sent to Frank on April 25, 1928, to be used for that purpose. In August of that year he went to Washington to pursue his investigations; but soon afterwards he joined the Alabama Conference as a minister, and nothing more was heard from him about the matter until Dec. 17, 1929, when, in reply to my inquiry, he wrote "I'm still so vitally interested in the family history that my conscience sometimes reprimands me for spending so much time working on it." In the same letter he gave a good deal of detailed genealogical information, and on Jan. 1, 1930, he first suggested a family organization and an annual reunion. On Jan. 3rd, I wrote Dr. Frank Shackelford asking him to confer with others there and report their reaction to me; and in a letter dated March 13th, he wrote, in part, "I have spoken to several and nearly all are in favor of the proposition." After exchanging a few more letters on the subject, the following invitation was sent to all who were supposed to be interested:

Evergreen Alabama.

May 15, 1930.

Dear Relative,

You are invited to a reunion of descendants of George and Annette (Jeter) Shackelford which will be held at Pintlala, Montgomery County, on July 4th, 1930.

The tentative program for the occasion is as follows:

10:00 A.M.—Organization meeting: Officers will be elected and plans made for a permanent family association.

11:00 A.M.—Address appropriate to the occasion by Dr. Edward M. Shackelford, of Troy, Alabama.

12:00 M— Dinner: Arranged by the Pintlala folks.

1:00 P.M.—Exhibits displayed: If you have interesting articles of a historical nature, write to Mrs. Wm. Reid Lancaster, 7 Westmoreland Avenue, Montgomery. She will be glad to get them for this exhibit. Anything like family trees, wills, deeds, Bibles, photos, etc., will be appropriate for this exhibit.

Put this notice where you won't lose it, and write us whether to look for you at the reunion. Let us know by June 15th, if possible, so that we may know how many we will have to prepare for.

Yours for a real reunion,

Franklin Shackelford Moseley.

These preliminary steps are given here in order to show that we have not been unappreciative of the splendid legacy left by our ancestors or unmindful of our obligation to transmit it untarnished to our successors. The recital of these steps shows a natural and logical development of the movement begun by Pa and Uncle Frank nearly half a century ago, together with the names of those responsible for the work that has been done. More credit for it is due to our historian, the Rev. Franklin S. Moseley, than to all of the rest put together; and I am confident that his findings will bear the test of historical accuracy.

Organization of the Association. The minutes show that the first meeting of the family was held in the auditorium of the Pintlala school building at 11 o'clock A. M., July 4, 1930; that it was called to order by George H. Shackelford, acting as temporary chairman; that 95 members signed registration cards; that, after general discussion, a motion to form a permanent organization was adopted; and that the chairman appointed E. M., Dr. Frank, and Frederick Shackelford and F. M. and Frank S. Moseley a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws to be reported back for consideration at the afternoon session. The chairman was added to this committee, after which adjournment was voted to enable the committee to do its work, as well as to give all an opportunity to enjoy a splendid barbecue, to inspect relics, records, pictures, etc., brought especially for the occasion, and to indulge in such reminiscences as time permitted.

At the afternoon session, the committee reported and the meeting adopted the following constitution and by-laws:

Following the adoption of the Committee's report, the following officers were elected:

President, E. M. Shackelford, Troy, Alabama.

Vice President, Dr. Frank Shackelford, Pintlala, Alabama.

Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Reid Lancaster, Montgomery, Alabama.

Historian, Rev. Franklin S. Moseley, Burnt Corn, Alabama.

These were immediately installed, and the Association was launched upon its career as an organized body.

Purposes and Plans—While the purposes of the Association are pretty clearly set forth in the Constitution, its management has given a rather liberal interpretation to the clause which provides for extending "the field of investigation until all available historical and genealogical data on the family are collected"; and as a result we have enlisted widespread and sympathetic cooperation from others not directly descended from George Shackelford and Annette Jeter, but doubtless connected through generations nearer to the parent stock.

By the same process of liberal interpretation, the work of the Association has been more or less articulated with the work and interests of the Pintlala community as a whole. For an account of this work, see Chapter VIII.

The plan of action pre-supposes combining the resources of the family, financial and otherwise, in the effort to accomplish the purposes set out above. Members contribute voluntarily of their talents and time for programs and what they can afford in a financial way to defray expenses of the meetings and for obtaining historical data. This latter, by the way, we find both tedious and expensive.

Associational Personnel—The Constitution provides for "active" and "honorary" members, "active" being composed of lineal descendants and "honorary" of those who marry or are adopted into the family. Unfortunately no provision was made for recognizing representatives of other branches of Shackelfords, and there has not been a meeting at which such representatives were not present. As a matter of fact, in practice, lineal descendants and those who have married or been adopted into the family have all been treated as "active" members, and representatives of other branches of Shackelfords have been treated as honorary members. Really the Association has made special effort to enlist the aid of all such representatives, and it is greatly gratified by its success in this particular. But more of this later.

In 1935, Mr. Moseley, our historian, stated that there were about 250 descendants of George Shackelford and Annette Jeter. Of that number perhaps as many as 150 have attended some one of the nine meetings that have been held, but probably not more than 130 ever attended at one time. Starting with Grandpa and Grandma as the fifth generation, both that and the sixth generation had passed before this Association was organized; and there were only 20 of the seventh generation living. I refer here of course only to lineal descendants. Eleven of these were present and I think they deserve special mention. They were Florence Lockhart and Minerva McLeod, Atlanta, Ga.; George H. and Dr. Frank Shackelford, Pintlala; T. W. Shackelford, Lela Moseley, and Maggie Minnis, Montgomery; E. M. Shackelford, Troy; Annie L. Rogers, Letohatchie; Anna Thompson, Bagdad, Fla.; D. E. Shackelford, Perry, Oklahoma. Unfortunately several who were present failed to make out a registration card. Besides these, the wives of Dr. Frank, T. W., and E. M. Shackelford and the husbands of Lela Moseley and Willie Crenshaw were registered. I am persuaded that George's wife was there but failed to register. If my memory, then, may be relied on, there were present at the organization of the Association eleven of the twenty lineal descendants belonging to the seventh generation who were living at that time. Of the nine who were not present the following have attended later meetings: Eva Brown, Verna Howard, Virginia Lawler, and Lucy Callen. The following have not been present at any of our meetings: Mary Norman, Josie Shackelford Acker, Hugh and Horace Stokes, and Blanche Hicks.

At the first meeting only 95 made out registration cards; but both my pocket diary and newspaper reports of the meeting gave 120 as the number present, and if there were only 11 representatives of the seventh generation present the remaining 109 were distributed among the eighth and ninth, (possibly a few from the tenth) generations.

Of the 95 who signed registration cards, 22 represented Uncle Wash's family; 28 Uncle Frank's; 8 Aunt Mary's; 4 Aunt Anna's; 29 Pa's; and 4 Aunt Mattie's. Aunt Beck's and Uncle Joe's were not represented; and no member of Aunt Penelope's was living at that time. Aunt Beck's and Uncle Joe's have been represented at later meetings.

Those who have died since we organized in 1930 are Anna Thompson, Mrs. Fred Crenshaw, Harry Thompson, Small McLeod, Florence Lockhart, Minerva McLeod, Earl Thornton, Mary Norman and husband, Edward Crenshaw, George H. Shackelford, Charley Crenshaw, Lula Shackelford, Reid Lancaster, Horace Stokes and Frank M. Moseley. Six of these are lineal descendants belonging to the seventh generation, thus leaving fourteen of the original twenty living to aid later generations in carrying on the work for which the Association was organized.

As stated elsewhere, our work has aroused rather wide spread interest among others not of our own immediate family, for other Shackelfords in America are numerous and widely distributed; and, like us, they appear to be interested in learning all they can about themselves and their forbears. They, as well as we, have accumulated valuable data, and we have been, and still are, collaborating with them in this work. Our historian has visited representatives of other Shackelford lines and exchanged notes with them; he and others of our number have answered hundreds of letters seeking information, and still others have attended our reunions for that purpose. We have appreciated their interest and cooperation so much that we have invited and urged them to attend our meetings; and, when they have come, we have given them a cordial reception and have accorded them the privileges of honorary membership. During the ten years of our existence as an organization some twenty-five or thirty representatives of other branches of Shackelfords have visited us, some of them more than once, and they have not only taken part in our deliberations, but they have contributed liberally to the financial support of the Association. Wish we had space to mention all of these visitors; but we haven't. However, since Dr. Jesse M. Shackelford and wife, Martinsville, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shackelford, Meridian, Miss., have attended more meetings and made more contributions than any other visitors, we feel justified in making exceptions in their favor.

Meetings and Programs—Nine reunions have been held since we first met on July 4, 1930. Economic conditions forced us to abandon them in 1932 and 1933. Usually these meetings are held on July 4th; but the one in 1931 was held on July 8th, as an experiment to see whether the attendance would be better on some other day than a national holiday. The change did not appear to make any difference, and we returned to the 4th of July, except when that falls on Sunday. Then the 5th becomes our meeting day.

All of the reunions to date have been held in the auditorium of the Pintlala junior high school building; and they will doubtless continue to be held there, because it is admirably located and it provides ample accommodations for such gatherings. This building is located fifteen miles south of Montgomery, Alabama, on the Montgomery-Mobile highway, U. S. Road 31, over which there is regular bus service.

Since the purposes of the Association are pretty clearly set out in the Constitution, its programs are all more or less alike, varying chiefly in their personnel. Of these programs, the following is a fair sample:

Results Accomplished—Perhaps the first result of especial mention was stated in the Montgomery Advertiser of June 21, 1931, by Miss Mildred Smith, its correspondent: "The Shackelford family of the Pintlala community has set a precedent by completing a permanent organization with duly elected officers."

The next, and probably the most important, result is that of drawing closer together those descendants of George Shackelford and Annette Jeter who had wandered far from their old home and who had been away so long that they knew not their own kin nor the ideals and traditions of the family. These annual reunions have not only rekindled fires on the family hearth for the older "strays" but they have brought the younger ones to know one another better and to learn the history, traditions, and aspirations of their ancestors. It was in an effort to crystallize and fix definitely and permanently in the minds of the members that the Association at its meeting on July 4, 1936, adopted as its motto "For our God, our Country, and our Family," and for our family songs "Auld Lang Syne" and "Blest Be the Tie That Biinds."

In a material way, the Association has raised, all told, approximately $1000, about one-tenth of which has been devoted to the improvement and upkeep of the family cemetery, about four-tenths to paying the expenses incidental to the annual reunions, and the remainder to defraying expenses for research work. Our cemetery plans are not yet completed, but they are well under way. The reunions have absorbed a good proportion of our receipts; but they constitute a necessary expense, and the attendant social opportunities fully justify their expense. The research work is naturally expensive, and it is practically unending; but it is an essential part of our program, and we feel that sufficient information has already been assembled to justify its publication. Details looking to that end will probably be presented at our next meeting, July 4, 1940. That was done and publication was ordered.

Officers of the Association—The officers elected at the first meeting of the Association in 1930, served without change until July 5, 1937, when I, as President, and Dr. Frank Shackelford, as Vice President, declined re-election, and Mr. T. W. Shackelford succeeded me and Mr. Walter E. Shackelford succeeded Dr. Frank. Mrs. Lancaster as Secretary-Treasurer and Mr. Moseley as Historian are still serving in their respective capacities. The roster, therefore, at present is:

President, T. W. Shackelford, No. 205½ Park Place, Montgomery, Alabama.

Vice President, Walter E. Shackelford, Birmingham, Alabama, Route No. 2, Box 55-A.

Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Reid Lancaster, No. 7 Westmoreland Avenue, Montgomery, Alabama.

Historian, The Rev. Franklin S. Moseley, Care of Wesley Foundation, Auburn, Alabama.

It is suggested that persons wishing information about general plans or policies of the Association should correspond with the President; those wishing to know about meetings, records, etc., should confer with Mrs. Lancaster; and those wishing historical or genealogical information should apply to Mr. Moseley.

Conclusion—In concluding this sketch, the Association gladly acknowledges its obligation to Miss Mildred Smith of Ramer, Alabama, for the generous publicity which she has given through the Montgomery Advertiser to our meetings and our work. We also greatly appreciate Mr. Peter Brannon's assistance in gathering from records in the State Department of Archives and History valuable information bearing upon our work. In like manner, are we deeply grateful for the sympathetic co-operation of friends and neighbors in the Pintlala community, without which our reunions could not have been so pleasant and successful.

CHAPTER VIII—PINTLALA, OUR ALABAMA HOME (E. M. S.)

Pintlala, a beautiful name, rich in romantic lore and hallowed by sacred memories for those who were reared within its precincts, a name that stirs within loyal hearts the deepest emotions of love and reverence for those brave and hardy souls who cleared the way and laid the foundations of this little village. Nature had been generous with her gifts and our fathers turned those gifts to good account in laying out their early homes. So well was that done that most of them were content to remain there until a bloody war all but wrecked the civilization they had built and Reconstruction virtually finished what the war began. Then some few sought homes in distant lands, carrying their early loves and sacred memories with them, no doubt looking forward to the time when they could return to their native home, and spend their remaining days among familiar scenes and happy loved ones. The writer confesses sentiments like these and fully appreciates the feeling of the wandering Goldsmith when he said

“As a hare whom hounds and horns pursue,
Pants to the place from whence at first she flew
I still had hopes, my long vexations past,
Here to return—and die at home at last.”

But Time's unfeeling train swept away many of the ties that bound the wanderers to their childhood home, and only one of them (Dr. Frank Shackelford) ever returned to make Pintlala his permanent dwelling place. The others formed ties which held them to their new homes; but no matter where they went they were like the darky in Stephen Foster's grand old song, “still longin for de ole plantation and for de ole folks at home.”

But, we must not conclude that Pintlala was a paradise on earth—a place where only joy, comfort, pleasure, and happiness prevailed, and from which work, disappointment, and sorrow were entirely banished. It is true that the community was blessed in many ways, but its people had their share of the sorrows and disappointments common to the human race. The cry of poverty and “hard times” was heard there as it was everywhere else, and as it always will be. Perhaps no truer or sadder fact was ever uttered than Tennyson’s statement, “Never morning wore to evening but some heart did break”; and that is just as true of Pintlalians as it is of other people.

This spot that we love so well, where is it on the map? How came it to be called by that beautiful name? What was its history prior to the coming of the white man? What of the life of its people industrially, socially, educationally, and religiously? These and many other interesting questions might be asked; but in a sketch like this we can give space for only those which seem most essential to a reasonably clear and complete view of the community and the life of its people.

Beginning, then, with the location and geography of what is known as Pintlala, it may be roughly described as a triangular area of about six square miles lying between Pintlala and Pinchona Creeks just above where they unite, these creeks forming its eastern, northern, and western boundaries. The southern boundry is an imaginary line running east and west between these two creeks and along the southern line of sections 21 and 22. This line crosses the Montgomery-Mobile highway about halfway between the former A. M. Moseley residence (later Dr. Powell’s) and the present residence of Dr. Wm. Tankersley. All of this area lies in sections 21 and 22, township 14 N., range 17 E. of the St. Stephens meridian. It is divided into four somewhat irregular parts by the crossing of the Montgomery-Mobile highway and the Old Hayneville road at Moseley’s store, about fifteen miles south of the city of Montgomery. This is a purely arbitrary delimitation of the geography of the village of Pintlala, and it is not intended to exclude from the community those who lived across its boundary lines and joined in its various activities. There were, and still are, a few of these and they are justly entitled to share all of the credit and honor which belong to this splendid neighborhood.

The name "Pintlala" undoubtedly came from the name of the larger of the creeks which bound it, and according to the best known authority on the subject (Dr. Wm. A. Read, of the University of Louisiana), it means "fish swamp creek". In early times the name was sometimes spelled "Pathlau-la" or "Pilth-lau-le". A Frenchman by the name of Tourette gave it its present form about 1844. He also said that the correct spelling of the name of the creek forming the western boundary of the community is "Pin-cho-na", not "Pin-cho-nee", as we were taught to spell it. Its meaning is probably "running turkey creek".

Pintlala is situated near the center of the country originally controlled by the powerful Confederacy of the Creek Indians, and Sam Manac, "a half-breed son of a Dutch trader and a Creek woman" and one of the important Chiefs of this Confederacy, owned or controlled most of the land embraced in the community of Pintlala. Sam married Elizabeth Weatherford, sister to William Weatherford, the great war chief of the Creek Confederacy and the hero of Alexander B. Meek's poem "The Red Eagle". This marriage into the ruling family of the Creeks gave Manac great influence, and enabled him to keep a good part of the Creek nation from joining Weatherford in his fight against the white settlers in the war of 1812. It is believed that the break between these two great leaders occurred at Manac's home, which was located in what we now know as the old Hare field, just across Pinchona Creek, and about two miles to the west of the present Pintlala school building.

By the way, records and traditions indicate that Manac's home, located as it was on one of the best known roads from Georgia and the Carolinas to the rapidly developing Southwest, had many prominent callers and was the place of many important meetings. Mr. Peter A. Brannon, of the Department of Archives and History, Montgomery, Alabama, mentions the great pioneer Methodist preacher Lorenza Dow and his wife Peggy; Aaron Burr, the accused plotter against the United States government; and General James Wilkinson, military governor of the Southwest, as having been guests at Sam's home. And the records of the Alabama Anthropological Society (an extract from which hangs in Moseley's store near by) mention Alexander McGillivray, the "Talleyrand of the Creek nation"; LeClerc Milfort, his brother-in-law and later a general under Napoleon; William Bowles, a pirate and "soldier of fortune"; William Bartram, a naturalist from Philadelphia; and Benjamin Hawkins, the first Indian agent for the United States government south of the Ohio—all as having passed along the federal road which ran through this community and by Sam Manac's home. I think it probable, too, that Sam Dale passed along this road in 1814, when he made his famous ride from Ft. Hawkins, Georgia, to New Orleans in eight days, carrying a message from the Secretary of War to General Jackson. These and other incidents of historic value only await the pen of a real historian to record one of the most interesting chapters in the development of what was once called The Southwest. Just across the road from Moseley's store there is a "marker" in honor of Sam Manac, with this inscription on it:

White people began to settle in this attractive spot in 1818, the year in which Alabama became a territory of the United States. The records do not show exactly who the first settler was; but they do show that the first land grant recorded was by John Bonham and was dated Apr. 15, 1820. The next was by George Shackelford, dated March 21, 1821. Then came these in the order named: Washington Jeter, Sept. 26, 1831; James Brantley, June 10, 1835; William Parmer, Aug. 6, 1835; Adam Capps, Dec. 29, 1835. Some of these settlers undoubtedly owned and occupied their land before recording their deeds. A case in point was that of my grandfather, George Shackelford, who deeded the lot upon which Old Bethel Church was built in 1819, two years before the recording of his deed to the land. Evidently he could not deed what he did not own. It is probable that other settlers did just what my grandfather did. And so the dates of the land deeds cannot be taken as positive proof of the exact order of the coming of our ancestors to Pintlala; but they do show that those named in them were the first comers—those who laid the foundations upon which the community was built. It is true that others owned land within the boundaries laid out for Pintlala, but they did not build homes there; and the Brantleys, Jeters, and Parmers moved away within a few years. That left the Bonhams, Shackelfords, and Capps of the original pioneers, and to these were later added the Normans, who were followed by the Moseleys. The Capps were not numerous or aggressive, and they soon disappeared entirely from the community. That left the burden of the community life largely upon the other three families until near the close of the century, when the third generation had begun to make homes of their own. In this sketch, the Bonham family includes the Varners, Killoughs, Quinns, Taylors, Brewers, and Ballards—all of whom married into the original family; the Mosleys, McPhersons and Powells are classed as one; and the Shackelfords include the Allens, Williamses, Stokeses, Colquitts, and Crenshaws. By 1900 only two members of the second generation were left in the community—Uncle Frank Shackelford and my father (Madison), and they died within five weeks of each other in November and December, 1905, my father going first. Of my generation—the seventh—only Mrs. Sally Moseley (who also represents the Bonhams), Dr. Frank Shackelford, and "Miss Hermie", the widow of Geo. H. Shackelford, reside in the old home community; but several of the eighth generation are still there.

Modern history places more emphasis upon the life of people—their industrial, their social, their intellectual, and their religious life than it does upon their rulers, or their physical environment. Hence, it seems appropriate to devote a few paragraphs to a brief discussion of these phases of Pintlala history.

Of the industrial life, little need be said; for farming was about all the people did, and that consisted largely of raising cotton, though every farmer also raised some corn. Most of them had "patches" of sweet potatoes and sugar cane, all had water melon patches, and occasionally would be found a patch of peanuts to turn hogs on. But growing cotton was by all odds their chief business. Of course there was the usual village black-smith shop, a grocery store, and most of the time the community had its resident physician. I recall Drs. Allman, Powell and Shackelford, and besides these Drs. Rives, Davis, and Tankersley practiced there. In those early days of open ranges for stock every family had cows and hogs, and the housewives had their vegetable and flower gardens and their chickens and eggs; and in those days orchards were an important part of every home—not just a few peach, apple, pear and plum trees, but orchards covering acres. In fact, in those early days every farm produced nearly everything that it used, even such things as "long-sweetening," (syrup) a substitute for sugar, home-spun and home made clothing; home made family remedies, instead of store-bought patent medicines; etc.—all more or less crude, but contributing greatly to independence and contentment.

As to the social life, it was not unlike that in other rural communities throughout the South. Among the older folks occasional barbecues, log-rollings, house-raising, church meetings, and once in a while quilting bees for the women, etc; among the younger set dances, picnics, singing schools, Sunday afternoon buggy rides, fish fries, baseball games, water melon cuttings, etc.—these constituted their chief amusements, and the people made the most of them. During my period as a youngster of the community a rather unusual feature of its social life was the "Shackelford Band," which was composed of my sisters Annie and Lela, my brothers Sam and David, and me. Annie played the guitar; Lela, the cello; Sam, the banjo; David, the triangle; and I, the fiddle (not violin). Our services were much in demand for picnics, dances, and similar social functions, not only in our own but in neighboring communities. The community life was of a rather impromptu and disconnected kind until the organization of Pintlala Grange in 1873. The building of its hall soon afterwards focalized and organized the people's efforts on all matters of general interest, not only in the immediate vicinity, but for miles around. That was the real purpose of the Grange, and it was a great loss to the community when that organization ceased to function. Living between two creeks, which were fairly well stocked with fish, it was natural that many should spend a part of their spare time angling for perch, trout, cat, and eel, in which the streams abounded. Other kinds of game were common in fields and swamp and hunting squirrels, "coons," o'possums, foxes, quail and doves was much indulged in by those of a sporting disposition.

It is thus seen that life among our people had its lighter and happier side along with matters of more serious concern.

Educationally Pintlala has been more fortunate than most rural communities; for, while we have comparatively few details about schools and teachers prior to the War of the 60's, we have an unbroken record since that time. It is strange indeed that so little on this subject has come down from our fathers and mothers, and it is stranger still that we didn't inquire more particularly about it while they were living. I recall hearing my father mention a Mr. Foster, Mr. Pierce, and a Mr. Supple as three of his teachers; but about all that I ever heard him tell about his school experiences was of pranks played on their teachers by the school boys, and the fact that he himself would have been a great speller if he could have got as much of Webster's blue back speller into his head as he got into his stomach. He must have had more teachers, for he had a pretty fair common school education, even though he did spell largely by the phonetic method. As to my mother, I do not recall hearing her mention any of her teachers except one Mr. Hunt; but she had a much better education than my father had. We know in a general way that all rural schools in those days were on a private subscription basis, and that they were taught usually by teachers who went from community to community and "made up" their little schools, and taught them in whatever vacant room might happen to be available. I attended two schools taught in rooms in private residences and one in a vacant store. So far as I know, the Norman school house, built of pine logs and situated about half a mile to the rear of the old Parmar house and overlooking Pinchona swamp, was the first building in the community erected exclusively for school purposes. It was used as such for only a short time because it was so poorly adapted to its purpose, and was so poorly located. I doubt whether the spot on which it stood could be very easily recognized now. It was in that old building that my second teacher, Mr. Daniel C. Tharin, made more kinds of impressions than one upon me and others of his pupils. Next came the first public school in the village, taught by Miss Bettie Bonham in the old Bonham store, which stood just south of the present store of Mrs. Moseley. After that, Mrs. W. A. Killough, (Miss Mollie, we called her) taught the village school in the north room of the old Bonham residence and later in the Grange Hall. Then came the Grange Hall Academy, with Col. Davis F. Gaffney as teacher. Naturally the building of the Grange Hall fixed the school location, and the old Hall remained the school home until it was superseded in 1922 by the present Junior High School building. Following Col. Gaffney came Mr. Claude B. Rencher, under whom the writer concluded his preparation for entrance to the State University in 1881. Others who kept the good work going were, James N. Gilchrist, J. D. Garrett, Lucia Wild, Belle Smith, Rebecca Gardner, Mrs. Frank Shackelford (our own Fannie) Minnie Ramey, Eula Bay Townsend, William Tankersley, James Tankersley, Lucy Walker, Hermione Huckabee (afterwards Mrs. Geo. H. Shackelford), Howard Green, J. E. Garrett, Mineola King, Principal Ben S. Copeland, and Principal L. R. Scarborough. (Space forbids naming the subordinate teachers since the organization of the junior high school in 1923, however much I wish to do so.)

Religiously, the early inhabitants of our home land were pretty evenly divided between Methodists and Baptists. In later years the Christians had many adherents. Of these the Baptists were the only ones to organize and erect a church building in the community, and for an account of that important event I quote from Mr. W. G. Robertson's "Recollections of the Settlers of Montgomery County," written when he was 82 years old and published in 1892. He says "Old Bethel church is the oldest church organized in Montgomery County. It was organized in the year 1819, and its organization has never been dissolved. The first building was of hewn logs. After a few years a large frame building was erected by the influence of George Shackelford and others . . . It was at this church that the separation of the Baptist denomination took place, and the old building is still standing. It had at one time a very large membership and congregation. The people would come from a great distance in wagons, carriages, buggies and ox-carts. The church would frequently not hold the congregation and they would preach under the shade of the trees. The membership now is quite limited, but they meet occasionally and worship at the old church where their fathers and grandfathers worshiped in the old days that are past and gone forever." In another article in the same little book Mr. Robertson has this to say about the great division of Baptists into missionary and anti-missionary groups: "The question of foreign and domestic missions had been agitating the church for a number of years, part of the membership being in favor and part opposing. At an association held on Monday after the first Sunday in October, 1837, the separation took place It is supposed that the writer is the only person now living that witnessed the separation."

Mr. Robertson wrote the foregoing facts nearly fifty years ago, and since that time the last of the members at Old Bethel, Cousin Lizzie Lewis, died. The church property reverted to the Shackelford heirs in 1915, and the old building was torn away in 1920. Nothing remains to mark the spot except the old cemetery, the grove of oaks which surrounded it, and a marker placed there by the Womans Missionary Union of Alabama, with the following inscription:

Split of Primitive and Missionary

Site marked Nov. 4, 1933

This division of Baptists is one of the most important events in the religious history of the 19th century, and both the occasion and the place where it occurred deserve far more attention than they have received. I doubt whether any perceptible number of Baptists of today know either the time or the place where this great event occurred*.

*Dr. Gwaltney, Editor of the Alabama Baptist, says the split did not begin at Old Bethel, but that it evidently reached that particular church at the time given. He says the break began in Ohio about 1820.

The Pintlala of today is really quite different from the Pintlala of my boyhood days. While many of the homes are on their original sites, many of the old buildings have been replaced by more modern ones, some have been remodeled, some have been removed to new sites, and several new ones have been added. Several plots of woodland have been cleared while some former open spaces have become covered over with second growth. Swamp lands along Pintlala and Pinchona creeks have been cleared and those streams are now scarcely more than good sized branches, having been partly filled up by the soil washed in from adjacent farms. Perhaps the greatest changes in the general appearance of the old community were caused by the disappearance of Old Bethel Church, the substitution of a modern building for the old Shackelford home, the tearing away of the old Bonham home, the erection of the handsome consolidated school building, the straightening and paving of the Montgomery-Mobile road, and the conversion of large tracts of cultivated land into pastures, thus indicating an important change in the industrial life of the people.

Close akin to these changes in outward appearance are others in the life of the community. The automobile, the electric light, the radio, the telephone and the daily mail have wrought a revolution in the habits and customs of the people there, as they have done everywhere else.

But perhaps the greatest change of all is in the personnel of the people—not in their quality or character, but in their ancestry and relationships. Compare the following lists of family names. The Old—Allen, Ballard, Bonham, Brantley, Capps, Colquitt, Crenshaw, Jeter, Killough, Moseley, Norman, Parmer, Powell, Quinn, Shackelfords, Stokes, Taylor, Varner, Williams. The New—Chestnut, Cochran, Crenshaw, Ferguson, Garrett, Hawthorne, Henry, Hornady, Moseley, Newell, Shackelford, Taylor, Windham. Of these 34 family names only four are found in both lists; and while more names are on the "old" list, they were not all residents of the community at the same time. The old list covers nearly
